

PROFILE

Veteran Teacher, Jason Barnett and Ashley Penn, will present the opportunity for private and public schools as well as churches and home school co-ops to participate in a free curriculum that enables students ages 12-19 to develop healthy relationships and recognize dangerous ones. The Empowering Tomorrow Foundation's mission is to equip community youth with the healthy relationship tools they need to put them on the path to a brighter future. The staff is available to implement this program with the necessary materials in a school near you! We invite you to be the voice that invites this group into your community "for such a time as this!"
